

SENATE IS BALKING.

Administration Measures Endangered by Mullishness of Millionaires' Club.

STATEHOOD BILL COMES NEXT

Prospects for This Measure Extremely Doubtful and Fate of Railroad Rate Regulation Still Hangs in Balance. Philippine Bill Steps.

The United States senate will devote most of the week to the consideration of the statehood bill with a view to reaching a vote on it next Friday in accordance with the agreement arrived at last week. There is a possibility that Senator Calhoun may speak today on the railroad rate question, but if he does this will be the only interruption of the consideration of the bill for the creation of two new states.

Practically all interest in the bill centers in the Foraker amendment and every possible effort on both sides is being made for and against that provision. Even the friends of the union of Arizona and New Mexico admit that the vote will be close but the opponents of that policy appear more confident of success. Both sides profess to have assurances from the house friends of the joint bill that with the Foraker amendment incorporated in the measure it will be allowed to die, and its opponents insist that with the addition made the house will be so eager to accept it that they will not even allow the bill to go to conference.

The fact that the railroad rate question will not occupy the floor will not be permitted to interfere with the activity on account of it. The bill is still receiving more attention from individual senators than any other measure, not excepting statehood, and it will remain in the foreground until it is finally disposed of, regardless of its place on the calendar. The special question under consideration now is that as to whether the proposed compromise amendments shall be accepted. The bill will be made the unfinished business as soon as the vote is taken on the statehood bill.

Senator Lodge is still disposed to ask the senate to take the Philippine tariff bill from the custody of the committee on the Philippines but he will not move in the matter until after the statehood vote.

For the first time during the present session the national house of representatives is short of work. There is nothing in sight for the present week but the Indian appropriation bill and although not regarded as necessary, the consideration of this bill is to be allowed to consume Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

NEW FIELD FOR ATHLETES

Columbia Projects One That Will Cost a Million Dollars.

New York, March 5.—An athletic field costing $1,000,000 is proposed for Columbia university in plans filed with President Butler by the committee he appointed some time ago to take the matter up. No ground near the university being available, it is proposed to make the ground by filling in the shallow shore waters of the Hudson river as far out as the pier head line, between 116th and 120th streets.

The consent of the city being necessary to the plan, it is proposed to secure this by combining the athletic public playgrounds with the athletic field and to furnish facilities for the sports of the Public School Athletic league. It is also proposed to erect an ornamental water gate on the ground where distinguished visitors might be received. The stands surrounding the field would be designed of steel and concrete.

FOUND AFTER 15 YEARS

Bleaching Bones of Master and Faithful Dog Recovered.

Montrose, Col., March 5.—Lying in a little hollow stretched out in full length the skeleton of William Alexander, who disappeared 15 years ago, was found by a party of hunters from Delta. Close beside the skeleton, with its head on his bosom, were the whitened bones of his faithful dog. The skeleton of the man and the dog were found on the Grand Mesa, within a short distance of the lake which had been named in his honor—Lake Alexander—and only by the remotest chance were the bleached bones discovered. Time after time searching parties have sought in vain for any trace of Alexander, who, it is believed, perished in a snowstorm.

TROOP TRANSPORT WRECKED.

YANKEE SOLDIERS ABOARD.

Manila, March 5.—The inter-island transport Ingalls is ashore on Raposo reef, off the southern coast of the island of Luzon. A battalion of the 20th infantry, en route to Manila, where they were to transfer to the transport Sheridan for the United States, were aboard the Ingalls. They were rescued by a coast guard cutter. The transport Ingalls has been sent to take off the soldiers' baggage.

Not Allowed to Split in Ohio.

Columbus, O., March 5.—Attorney General Kells has rendered an opinion that without formal warrant an officer has the right to arrest any person seen spitting in cars or on sidewalks and may also arrest any person reported by another for such an offense. The opinion is in response to an inquiry by the state board of health.

STUBBORN KANSAS GASSER

150,000,000 Cubic Feet of Gas Escaping From It Every Day.

Caney, Kans., March 5.—The gas well of the New York Oil & Gas company, said to be a Standard Oil corporation, is burning more furiously than ever and its roar can be heard for miles.

The well is four and one-half miles southeast of Caney, in the Cherokee section, and has been blazing since Feb. 22 when it was struck by lightning. The flames reach more than 150 feet in the air and consume, it is estimated, 150,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The mouth of the well is eight feet in diameter and the bore of the well is being increased by the explosion of rocks, which are thrown high in the air. A rock weighing 30 pounds shot from the well and descended 1,000 feet away. Efforts to smother the fire with steam have failed completely and the plan of closing the well with a hood has not proved feasible.

Letter to S. R. Goldsmith, Conneville, Pa.

Dear Sir: As your business is to get people into and out of trouble, suppose you consider their pain; it makes 'em almost as much trouble as money, except of course matrimony. They try poor pain a good deal; they don't mean to they don't know any better; they but without thinking, bad pain isn't good. Looks good enough for a change; but begins to get rusty; but changes to slowly one don't notice it.

Looking 'snt all. The business of pain is to keep a be so dry inside, the wood and iron of it, keep it from rotting and rusting. 'Takes good paint to do it.

Good and bad paint are sold at one price or about that. One can't go by the price at all; as with lawyers, the price has nothing to do with goodness or badness; and one's as worse yet; the painter and the lawyer come in for their share.

But the probability is that a man who paints Devco will come out on top.

WINTER: A DIRGE

By Robert Burns

HE wintry west extends his blast, And hail and rain does blow; Or the stormy north sends driving forth The blinding sleet and snow; While unobscured, the burn comes down And roars free bank to bank; And bird and beast in cover rest And pass the heartless day.

"The swiftest blast, the sky o'ercast," The joyless winter day; Let others fear, to me more dear Than all the pride of May. The tempest's howl, it soothes my soul, My griefs it seems to jell; The leafless trees my fancy please, Their fate resembles mine!

Thou power supreme, whose mighty scheme These woes of mine I see, Here, Arm, I rest, they must be best, Because they are thy will! Then all I want (O do thou grant) Since to enjoy thou dost deny, Assist me to resign!

THE GUARANTEE OF PEACE.

Seventeen years ago, Nicholas of Russia, in the name of humanity, called the rulers of the civilized world together with a view to putting an end to crime and bloody wars.

The arbitration of national disputes was the remedy proposed, and the gradual but certain disarmament of the nation, especially their naval forces, was proposed as a further guarantee of the world's peace.

Out of this came the international court of The Hague, a court that can neither assume jurisdiction nor enforce decrees. The suggestion as to disarmament has been utterly ignored. The naval forces of the nations have increased 50 per cent, and they are growing at an accelerated pace, so fast that the people who "pay the freight" are beginning to wonder where it is going to end.

Modern statesmen seem to be diametrically opposed to the disarmament proposition, holding its reverse to be true, namely, that a powerful navy is a nation's best guarantee of peace. Harsh as it may seem, this is the correct theory. The millennium is not at hand yet. Peace can only be guaranteed a nation when it has power to enforce it.

The B. &amp; O. has settled the Red Rock case. This is not the Rock that the Red Raven Split, but the Red Rock company will get its movement promptly.

Senator Hale hits the nail on the head when he says the Congress had better leave Arizona and New Mexico alone unless prepared to admit them as separate States. The consolidation of these Territories into one State is not desired by the nation from the fact that they are hopelessly divided by physical boundaries and racial prejudices.

The annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company says the company needs a six-track line and an adequate supply of pure water for boiler use between Pittsburg and New York. The water supply is being furnished from Indian Creek, and the six-track line will not doubt follow. The Pennsylvania will continue to uphold its reputation as "the finest."

The Could line through Greene county has been built again. There is no water in it, either; but being a newspaper report, it is not free from a suspicion of wind.

If the threatened coal strike is not averted, it will not be for lack of strenuous efforts on the part of numerous peace-makers whose interests are entirely collateral or wholly unconnected. If the differences are amicably settled, the credit therefor will perhaps be as numerously apportioned as they were when the query arose, Who killed coal robin?

Russia has frequently been likened to a glacier slowly but slipping southward into Asia. The slip toward China melted a large Japanese hole in the glacier. It was a bad slip for the iceberg. The integrity of frozen products cannot be guaranteed save in cold climates.

Senator Tillman's fight against the abolition of the South Carolina dispensaries must not be misconstrued. Senator Tillman is a Democrat, not a Prohibitionist; furthermore, he is a Democratic boss, and the dispensary law furnishes him with the political patronage necessary to maintain his political machine, without which his name would soon be changed from Tillman to Stillman in the councils of the nation.

Senator Morgan of Alabama will never forgive his country for disagreeing with him about the inter-oceanic canal route.

The Philippine elections are reported to have been quiet, but balloting in some cases is under suspicion. The Filipinos are becoming Americanized and may soon be entrusted with self-government.

The martial spirit of France remains unabated. The French steamship flag defiance in Germany's teeth and in the teeth of each other and then go out and fight duels that are as bloodless as the wars with the Dutch.

VANDERBILT.

Personal Chat From the New Borough Down the Yough.

Vanderbilt, March 5.—It was reported in Saturday's issue of the Daily Courier that a dance was held at the home of Essey Lynn a few evenings ago. This was a mistake as they did not dance. Hereafter when people, and especially those who attend social functions, in reporting the matter to the writer, should be careful in giving the details of the affair. We strive to give the news correct and the people who furnish it should do likewise.

Mrs. Sue Jones and Miss Grace Moore have returned to their homes at this place after an extended visit with relatives in Florida. They seem much benefited by their trip to the land of flowers and sunshine.

SMITHFIELD.

Chatty Letter from the Metropolis of Georges Township.

Smithfield, March 5.—E. W. Field is on the sick list with the prevailing complaint, "bad cold."

Arthur Sutton, a fireman on the B. &amp; O. railroad, with headquarters at Graceton, W. Va., is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sutton.

Principal F. R. House will open a normal school here Monday, April 30, and continue eight weeks. Teachers' examination will be held near the close of the term. Principal House is nearing the close of a successful winter term in the public schools here. His work has been entirely satisfactory to the board of education. Young teachers and others desiring to enter upon the preparation of the profession will do well to attend the Smithfield Normal the ensuing summer.

The district is composed of nine townships on the western edge of the county and five boroughs. The townships are Henry Clay, Wharton, Georges, Springhill, Nicholson, Germantown, Lawrence, Redstone, with Mackleysburg in Henry Clay, Fairbance and Smithfield in Georges. Phil Martin in Springhill, and Mason in W. H. Nicholson. The bulk of the vote in the district is in German and German, and the political complexion of the district is close enough not to give either party a walkover. The result will depend on a great deal on the men and the localities from which they are nominated.

Read The Daily Courier for the latest news of the day.

James West, a respected citizen of Springhill township, died yesterday evening from heart failure. The 57th year of his age. Funeral from the home Wednesday at 70 A. M. Rev. J. W. Hays will conduct the services. Interment here in the Baptist Cemetery. Deceased was a well married man though he has for many years fulfilled the duties of head of a family, taking the place of his parent, who died years ago and left him the care and management of the farm they lived on and from which they derived their livelihood and responsibilities imposed on him in a many way. It can be truly said of him that a good man is dead, and the world is better for his having lived in it.

TREES FOR MONUMENT

Gov. Hogg's Recent Wish Recalled by His Sudden Death.

Austin, Tex., March 5.—The body of former Gov. Hogg has arrived from Houston today by his children, a delegation from the Houston Bar Association and union labor organizations. Thousands met the party at the station and acted as an honorary escort to the State House, where the body will lie in state.

The Governor, on the eve of his death, talked of the monument he wished when he died. "I want my child's plant at the head of my grave a peach tree and at the foot of my grave a walnut tree and when these trees shall bear, let the peaches and the walnuts be given out among the plain people of Texas so that they may plant them and make Texas a land of trees."

Former Governor James Stephen Hogg died at the residence of Frank C. Jones, his law partner. Gov. Hogg had been in failing health for a year or more. His condition was not considered dangerous by his physicians, and he was planning a trip to Battle Creek, Mich.

moan, and when they pushed him he sent his trains out pretty close together. It never bothered him to haul a heavy train. He would get the business through. The cowboys had a respect for him. They could put it at the division, but occasionally there were some hater-outbursts: experiences among the freightmen on Norman's trail trying to keep off each other's cattle. One night in July there was a great party at the hotel. The cowboys were making merry over the main line on some kind of a true contract. We were giving stockmen the earth then. Everybody was prodding the Mountain division, and part of the snuff came in late on Blackfoot. The cowboys were laughing and was almost coughing his head off about that time, getting up at 3.30 every morning.

Fred at 4 o'clock took the steers and sent them out after train through the flat. The cowboys were laughing and "I am sure of what I say. There seems to be no work." He was talking in a rather meditative spirit; at each other it was a silent fight. No man dare say who was right or wrong. The two men were men engaged between them with their hands up—but the blood was gushing from his mouth.

It was pretty serious business. There was a trap set and the boy lay on Blackburn's arm trap as a dead wire. Nobody thought after they saw that hemorrhage that he would ever live to leave much v. I was so sick and I never saw Blackburn since. Doubtless, Blackburn was cool in second, for he saw quicker than others did and he knew there was danger of the little dispatcher lying right there in his tracks. Blackburn stood over him as much at home facing death as he was in a fight or in a dispatcher's chair. It appeared to know just how to handle the boy to check the gush and to know just how to stop it and how to feed it, and he had Doubleday telephoning for Dr. Carlant and the number to a saloon after choppees lee in a jiffy. When anybody was knocked out Blue shirt was in no hurry to get away. He was waiting for a man, when they got blurred, kind of looked to Blackburn.

That day the minute he got Fred into the car he said to Fred, "You've got to take care of me, not nobody, course but Blackburn to do it. He says in and picked up the threads and told them till noon. Then Maxwell called. He asked me what was waiting outside when Blackburn left the chair. I said

"Grandmother's Teak" Now Open.

Women who have reached the age when they are not giving any more birthday parties have found a way at last of dividing the debauchees in attending parties. They have opened a "Teaching" school.

No longer trying to look younger than the birds, the elderly matrons of Brookline, that "exclusive" suburb of Boston, are giving a series of "grandmother" teas. The guests at these affairs must be grandmothers, and every one must come prepared to receive the wonderful dolours of her grandchild.

Grandmother's Teak is a school where the grandmothers are the students and the grandmothers are the teachers. The grandmothers are the students and the grandmothers are the teachers. The grandmothers are the students and the grandmothers are the teachers.

The revival spirit is extending to the masses of the city, from the clergy to the milkster of the zoo-patch. A policeman was among the workers, and a woman, who had been converted from a street-walker, was among the converted women from the street.

At the meeting, I heard of a street conductor who is trying to win a prize as he collects his fares.

One of the city's best reading clubs are becoming soul winners.

Of the most active personal workers at the meetings I met after night the number of one of our most successful workers in America. The day he called seven of his traveling salesmen into his private office, and one after another they surrendered their souls to Christ.

One of our leaders for twenty-three years has been a confirmed atheist.

At an afternoon testimony meeting last Saturday the platform needed to hold how the business men of Philadelphia are being won to Christ.

At the city. As he spoke it was interesting to note that there sat near him the platform the second vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad and the president of the city company.

As an example of how the business men are embracing the revival, I quote one of them after a meeting:

"I went to meetings here to Dr. Torrey, and I was converted."

At Monday evening, when you will be called to go down the "biggest street" in the city, I will be figuratively glad to say, "I have been brought to God. In a measure I have been saved to God. I was not lazy, but I held me back. The next day I will be glad to go down the 'biggest street' in the city."

too. A railroad man told me last night yesterday a man went up loaded $3 through one of the windows where they take the fare for the road and said, 'This is money that a railroad was charged of twelve years ago. The man had been to the station, and the railroad benefited to the extent of twelve years.'

'Now, if any of you like that story added Dr. Torrey, "and you have railroad money or street car money, anybody else's money, go and purchase it for the poor people of this city."

Dr. Torrey one day addressed the students of the University of Pennsylvania, while Mr. Alexander represented the University of Michigan at Princeton university. He was asked in the meeting by a visiting Russian worker—Melvin E. Trotter—Grand Inquisitor Charles Butler, president of the "Torrey-Alexander" society of the Russian evangelists, several questions for the students. The answers were given by the students in the theological department.

Soul Winning.

Stirling scenes were witnessed at the first meeting of the Princeton undergraduates. Mr. Alexander told the students that if they wanted to be saved, they must first be born again, was an in their lives, and be a man who wished to make confession of their neglect to the students and to the world. He then asked students and so. One after another the men came forward and confessed that they had not been born again, but that they were in the world of soul winning. At the close of the meeting a junior in

THE NEWS OF DUNBAR.

Pleasant Party Given on Friday Evening by Miss Pearl Eicher.

TWO MEN KNOCKED INTO CREEK

Bright Local and Personal Chat and Brief Paragraphs Picked Up by The Courier's Correspondent in the Fur-face Town.

Dunbar, March 5.—What was a very pleasant social affair was a party given last Friday evening by Miss Pearl Eicher in honor of a number of her young friends. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner in playing of the various pastimes. At 11 o'clock the happy young crowd were served a most toothsome luncheon, which all enjoyed heartily. After luncheon a number of snap shots of the assembly were taken. Among these present were the following: Messrs. Anna McDowell, Emma Graves, Inez Bryson, Lizzie James, Anna Rankin, Birdie Kelly, Ada Mitchell, Pearl Eicher and Gladys Eicher, W. J. Bennett, Tarr, Howell, McFarland, Thomas McFarland, Clarence Smith, George Martin and George Gibson. At a late hour the happy crowd broke up and the guests departed to their homes laden with their prizes of their young hostess, who had permitted them to enjoy such a delightful evening.

The Morrell Cornet Band will hold a ball in Kunkel's Hall at 11 o'clock on April 16 for the benefit of the band. They expect to be uniformed in May. W. J. Kincaid of Wheelers is teaching the band and intends to make it a good one.

The eleven day old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lehman died at its late home on last Friday. The funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon, Rev. D. E. Miner officiating. The interment was in Mt. Airy cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in which they live.

The insurance adjusters, whose duty it is to ascertain the cause of loss and to pay the policy holders, were in town the latter part of last week conferring with the Dunbar Fire Brick Company and securing the necessary information regarding the loss. The company has been at the plant during the past week gathering up the surplus left as a result of the fire. As soon as all proper arrangements can be made work on the erection of the new plant will be started and hurried to completion as rapidly as possible.

Miss Beulah Kelly of Vanderbilt was here over Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly of Railroad street.

Miss Kate Shoff, who has been here for the past few weeks the guest of friends and relatives, returned to her home in Smithfield last Saturday evening.

William Holsing and son Andrew, who are now employed at Burgstown, N. Y., came home Saturday night and remained over Sunday, returning to their work this morning.

Patrick Ryan received word Saturday morning from Weston, N. Y., of the death of a near relative.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church have arranged to hold a chicken supper in the church on Friday evening of this week. The preparations which they are making will assure you that you can get a grand supper by patronizing them. The funds go to defray the expenses in connection with the furnishing of the proposed new church building.

The parties here who were prompted by the nice weather last week to have their gardens plowed ready to make garden this week may have to defer their plans a little from all indications at the present time. The ground here may get his six weeks of winter dish out to us yet.

B. T. Greaves of the Warren-Elmer dag mills at this place was in Scotland recently looking after matters of business.

John N. Pott, who up until March 1 was engaged in the operating of the Cambria Steel Company's plant at this place, but who gave it up to accept a more lucrative position as chief engineer for a large coke plant operating in the northwest, left Saturday morning enroute to Tacoma, Washington, where he will be located. Mr. and Mrs. Pott have many friends here who were sorry to see them leave, but in their going wish for them success in their new field.

A rather peculiar accident occurred here on last Friday evening. There were two men at work about the front of the First National Bank building and in doing their work they used a large stick of wood which extended out into the street. Joseph Bunting, who was driving a delivery wagon, came along, and not seeing the piece of wood lying on the street, he drove over it. The wagon was stopped on it and when his wagon struck the wood they were both thrown into the creek beneath. One of them escaped injury while the other one received a sprained back in falling. While the accident was purely accidental, Joseph was very much excited for fear that the accident was more serious than it really was.

How Y. M. C. A. Athletes Are Americanizing Orientals.

COLLEGE YELLS ECHO IN CHINA.

A Crowd of 5,000 Attended Athletic Meet at Tientsin—Base Ball Teams in Japanese Colleges—Foot Ball Played by Students of India.

The American Y. M. C. A. recently introduced into China and Korea has been fostering athletics which were previously unknown to orientals. In Seoul, Korea, the baseball and soccer drills have been taken kindly to by the higher class young men. It has been their custom to wear their finger nails as long as they could, and to be clean shaven. They are now as proud of their clean hands, their shaven heads and their athletic gear as the American schoolboy after a football game.

The Christian American athlete is gaining the same kind of leadership in the orient as he has in America, and as a leader in Bible classes, in athletic and successful as an athlete. At Tientsin, the primitive old capital of China, a crowd of 5,000 was attracted to the recent annual athletic meet of the association.

Japan is taking to American athletics. Every college has its baseball team, and last summer a Tokyo university sent its team, which was trained by a Y. M. C. A. secretary, for a tour among American colleges. The Tokyo association has six prominent Christian physicians on its athletic promotion committee.

The students of India have adopted football and other American and English games.

This description of a recent field day held by the Y. M. C. A. at Shanghai was given by the editor of the South China Daily Journal. This is a new thing among Confucianists. American athletics will go along with the new education policy lately approved by the Chinese emperor.

The new life that is stirring China was strikingly seen at the sports meet held by the Chinese Y. M. C. A. a few days ago. When before in the long history of China have we seen the young men of the nation so eager to play the games of the West?

The young men of the nation are so eager to play the games of the West that they are even taking to the American style of dress.

Another striking feature was the presence of Chinese ladies from prominent families, a special privilege accorded for this Chinese ladies acted as hostesses and also provided the refreshments.

Tseng Wong Koli Shan, chairman of the association, presented the prizes at the conclusion of the sports to Miss Wu Tine Pung, and as far as we are informed, for the first time in history a Chinese lady brought a sports meeting to a conclusion by presentation of prizes.

The enthusiasm of the spectators was intense, and as one of our English contemporaries remarked, the presence of Admiral Sui's marine band playing "Yankee Doodle" and "Hallelujah" was certainly in keeping with the spirit of the day.

Women, Revolver, Didn't Know.
Gettysburg, Pa., March 5.—Mrs. Isaac H. Welker, residing near here, accidentally shot and killed her sister, Miss Eliza Weaver, age 55. Mrs. Welker was examining a revolver, looking for it was empty.

Johnson Succeeds McLean.
Cleveland, O., March 5.—Mayor Johnson has been elected a member of the Democratic National committee, to succeed John L. McLean, of Cincinnati.

COKE REGION BASE BALL.

Dunbar to Put a Strong Team in the Field.

Dunbar, March 5.—A movement has been started in Dunbar to organize one of the strongest base ball teams in the Connellsville coke region, for the coming season. The team will be independent of the much-touted trolley league. A prominent base ball enthusiast of Connellsville stated last week that the movement on foot to organize a league in Western Pennsylvania will never terminate, for the simple reason that small towns, such as Vanderbilt, Dunbar, Mount Pleasant and Leominster, cannot pay salaries to their players.

These teams, with other coke towns, were the plus factor in the league of the kind of base ball we want for the coming season and not a few highly-schooled men who do not belong in the county. This feeling is prevalent throughout the coke region, and the agitation of the trolley league have met with little success.

A meeting will be held next week at this place. Dunbar has good material for a local club. Ritchey, the left-handed pitcher who played with Uniontown, in the Somerset League, who pitched in the same league as Kunkle, whose reputation as a catcher has seldom been equaled in this section, is a player of a short time, shortstop, Warner, McDowell and Miner, in the field; Maloy, Glover and Patton, on bases, would make an aggregation hard to surpass.

Selected Pall Bearers.
Late Isaac Henderson Named Them for His Own Funeral.

The funeral of the venerable Isaac Henderson took place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in his home in Franklin township and was attended by a large number of his old friends and neighbors.

The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Miller of the Pleasant View P. C. Church, assisted by Rev. J. B. Reed of the Laurel Hill Presbyterian Church. The interment was in the Pleasant View Church cemetery.

Mr. Henderson several years ago selected his pallbearers for his funeral and these were carried out by request and officiated. Five of them, R. H. Brown, William Walters, Job Fletcher, Thomas Marshall and Sylvester Duff, were from Pleasant View.

Both of the living children of the deceased were present, the only son, Alex. Henderson, having arrived on Thursday from Rio, P. D. Clumey Johnson of Uniontown, Pa., was also present and those who attended from Uniontown were Arthur and Mrs. D. W. Henderson, Sheriff M. A. Kiefer, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henderson Johnson.
